The image shows a screenshot of the WordPress.org website and a WordPress dashboard. The top part of the image is the WordPress.org website header, which includes the WordPress logo, the text "WORDPRESS.ORG", a search bar, and a navigation menu with links for Showcase, Themes, Plugins, Mobile, Support, Get Involved, About, Blog, and Hosting. Below this is a screenshot of a WordPress dashboard for a blog titled "My WordPress Blog". The dashboard includes a sidebar with navigation options like Dashboard, Home, Updates, Posts, Media, Pages, Comments (with a notification badge), Appearance, and Plugins. The main content area shows an "At a Glance" summary with statistics: 237 Posts, 5 Pages, 428 Comments, and 1 in moderation. It also displays the WordPress version (3.9.1) and the current theme (Twenty Fourteen). Below this is an "Activity" section with a "Recently Published" list showing two posts: "A weekend away in the cou" published on Dec 5th at 6:05 am, and "Memories from the last sur" published on Nov 25th at 5:23 am. To the right of the dashboard screenshot is a text block from the WordPress.org website. It starts with "WordPress is web software you can use" and "beautiful website or blog. We like to sa" and "both free and priceless at the same tim". Below this is another paragraph: "The core software is built by hundreds of community" and "you're ready for more there are thousands of plugin" and "transform your site into almost anything you can ima" and "people have chosen WordPress to power the place" and "home" — we'd love you to join the family." At the bottom of this text block is a button that says "Download WordPress 3.9.1".
